HOW IT WORKS

Programmed Maintenance Painting

takes a long-term view on your building's painting maintenance, splitting the costs of the initial paint job and annual servicing into pre-agreed annual payments. It starts with an initial inspection to agree the scope of work required. We'll then tailor a customised plan with a fixed schedule of work to ensure your building's paintwork always looks professional and inviting.

Benefits

- You don't have to worry about paint maintenance – it will look great for the entire life of the project
- The plan is customised to your business – we fit our service model around you
- It requires very little management time from you, allowing you to focus on more important tasks
- Long-lasting appeal – a typical programme lasts 5 or 6 years, with the option to run for as long as 10
- No nasty surprises – costs are agreed up front and remain consistent
- Exceptional quality – master Whittle tradespeople using the finest Johnstone's Trade paint and coatings

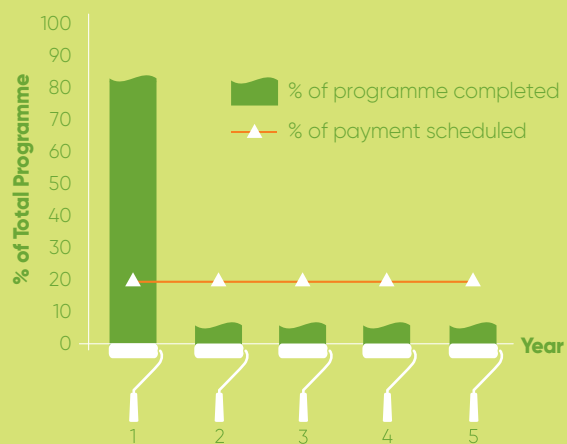

MAINTAIN PEACE OF MIND AND A FANTASTIC FINISH

A beautifully designed and decorated building can be a source of real pride – and make a great impression on employees, business partners and customers. But as the quality of the finish starts to wane, so does everybody's enthusiasm. It doesn't have to be that way though. Our Programmed Maintenance Painting service gives you the confidence that your paintwork will look fresh and impressive, month after month, year after year. So that great first impression of your premises turns into a lasting one and it becomes a place that everybody loves to visit.

AFFORDABLE REFURBISHMENT MAINTAINED

Typical five-year maintenance programme

Programmes generally last for five years, depending on the specific needs of each building and the requirements of our clients.

With Programmed Maintenance, there are no unexpected bills. The cost is spread throughout the life of the contract, giving you one pre-agreed, manageable annual fee. No nasty surprises. No need to worry about budgeting.
